DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 1-6 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 3 October 2005.

Specification

2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

The following title is suggested: Aseptic Eyedropper Dispensing Attachment.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 7-10 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 12-15 of copending Application No. 11/099,322. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a drop dispensing attachment with axial and cross members and a method for dispensing drops into an eye of a patient.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant would be prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application in the other copending application. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Recanati (US 6,736,802; herein 'Recanati'). Recanati discloses a method for dispensing drops into a patient's eye, said method comprising: the user resting stem portions/cross member 18, 23 to either side of the nose 29 with the nose being used to steady the eye drop applicator with end portions 20,25 of stem portions 18, 23 being positioned over the user's eyes 28; the user then directs/aligns container 11 such that eye drop solution is dispensed from the container and through passageways/lumens through the open ends 22,27 of stem portions 20,25 and into the corner and other portions of the user's eyes (col. 2, ll. 66-col. 3, line 6, figures 1-4).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Vo (US 5,171,306) is cited for showing an eye drop delivery system 10 comprising: axial member having an inlet which receives drops from removable reservoir/squeeze bottle 200, and a cross member attached to axial member and having a nose bridge rest and a first nozzle with outlet/leg 335A extending laterally from the axial member for releasing drops into the eye. Macha (US 3,446,209) is cited for showing medicinal eye dropper guide 1 with axial member, central apertures/first and second legs having aperture/outlet 2 for direct contact with dispensing bottle B with cutout 8 and recesses T to release drops, and nose bridge rest disposed between the two legs. Thomas (US 4,798,599) is cited for showing eyecup 10 with one leg that forms eyewash chamber 45 having drops dispensed via conduits 44, 46 to the corners and center of the eye.
